Xavier, before we spoke, I explained that I'm Assistant State's Attorney Joanna Leafblad, that I'm a lawyer and a prosecutor and I'm not your lawyer, is that correct?

A. Yes, ma'am.

Q. Okay. And before we spoke, I advised you of your constitutional rights, is that correct?

A. Yes, ma'am.

Q. Xavier Walker, I talked to you earlier and you told me about the robbery and shooting of Marek Majdak. And at that time you told me that on the 13th of May, 2000, you were out getting high with Jovanie Long, who you also call Vani. You were ran out of money and decided to go rob people coming to buy drugs on Ohio. Vani had a gun. You were the look-out for Vani, watching his back and watching for police. When a man drove up in a van, Vani got in and held a gun up to that man. You saw a struggle and started toward the van, maybe to hold the man so that Vani could get his money. The man ran out of the van and Vani shot him. Vani took the money out of his pocket and you both ran.

A. Yes, ma'am.

Q. Okay. I'm gonna read you your rights again. Do you understand that you have the right to remain silent?

A. Yes, ma'am.

Q. Do you understand that anything you say can be used against you in a court of law?

A. Yes, ma'am.

Q. Do you understand that you have the right to talk to a lawyer and have him present with you while you are being questioned?

A. Yes, ma'am.

Q. Do you understand if you cannot afford to hire a lawyer and you want one, a lawyer will be appointed by the court to represent you before any questioning?

A. Yes, ma'am.

Q. Understanding these rights, do you wish to talk to us now?

A. Yes, ma'am.

Q. Xavier Walker, I asked you if you would agree to have your statement videotaped, is that correct?

A. Yes, ma'am.

Q. And this is the form you signed agreeing to have your statement videotaped, isn't it?

A. Yes, ma'am.

Q. And the detective and I signed it as well?

A. Yes, ma'am.

Q. Okay. Xavier, on May 13th, 2000, were you out with Vani?

A. Yes, ma'am.

Q. And what were you doing?

A. We was walking around trying to wait for a, a customer or something so we can just give him anything, it's not just money (inaudible).

Q. Okay. But before that, were you doing anything with Jovanie?

A. We were smoking and drinking.

Q. Okay. And when you were smoking and drinking -- you stopped smoking and drinking at one point, is that right?

A. Yes, ma'am.

Q. And why did you stop?

A. We didn't have no more -- nothing else to drink or nothing else to smoke.

Q. Okay. Did you have any money or anything?

A. No, ma'am.

Q. And when you didn't have any money, did you start talking about doing something?

A. Yeah, we talked about going outside and snatch some money so we can go -- just have some more money.

Q. And what is that called when you snatch money?

A. Hitting a lick.

Q. Okay. And when you, hit a lick, what exactly do you do?

A. Well, we -- me and my friends, we'll just give him anything, some grass or something or some fake, some fake drugs. So we can snatch they money and run.

Q. And you do that to who?

A. Customers that come up, black, white, all type of customers.

Q. People who come to buy drugs?

A. Customers that come to buy drugs.

Q. And have you -- how many times have you done, have you hit a lick before with people?

A. About 30, 40, 50.

a lick with Vani?

A. About two or three times before.

Q. And when you hit a lick with someone, do you switch off being look-outs?

A. Sometime.

Q. And when you were out that night were you being the look-out for Vani?

A. Yes, ma'am.

Q. And before that, about how long were you waiting around for somebody to come over so you can hit a lick?

A. About a hour and a half.

Q. And when you're the look-out for someone what, what do you do?

A. Just stand in the way looking for the police or for another customer who come so you can hit you a lick.

Q. Okay. And do you also watch each other's backs?
